Five Fast Facts for Banks Working with FinTech

Thursday, October 3 | Time TBD

Stanley F. Orszula, Partner

Brent McCauley, Partner

This rapid-fire presentation will discuss the five key elements for banks considering partnerships with FinTech companies. Since FinTech regulatory and banking experience varies, the session highlights how banks need to engage with clear expectations and within a sound regulatory and legal framework. Takeaways from this presentation will allow banks to identify relevant issues that should be integrated into any agreements with FinTech companies.
